

There are many things to consider when budgeting for your study abroad program. Make a list of everything you can think of that you will need to pay for on a daily basis. Don't forget to include housing and meals that aren't included with your program; personal items, such as toiletries, clothing, nights out, and souvenirs; additional travel, excursions, and daily local transportation; and some extra money in case of emergency. Here is a handy list of important things to consider when budgeting for study abroad.

- _____ Airline extra baggage charges
- _____ Airport arrival & departure taxes
- _____ Entry fees/tourist card cost
- _____ Visas and Permits to Stay (if applicable)
- _____ Out-of-pocket school activity fees
- _____ Books & lab fees
- _____ Housing damage deposits
- _____ Transport to/from housing & school
- _____ Weekend travel/excursions
- _____ Daily meals
- _____ Souvenirs
- _____ Going out (bars, dinners, etc...)
- _____ Phone use/cellphone/calling card
- _____ Internet fees at Internet cafes
- _____ Incidentals: film, batteries, laundry, toiletries, etc...
- _____ Unexpected emergencies
- _____ Other: _____

- _____ Total